

Elder Dana C. Edmond
Executive Director
Office for Regional Conference Ministry

Dear Elder Edmond:

As you already know, I left PSI in the Spring and am now mostly retired. Frequently I am reminded in small and large ways of the pleasant and most productive times I had with people and churches of the regional conferences. For example, I wore a brooch the other day, a clever little duck, which a church member took off her own lapel and gave to me when I spoke at her church. Another woman embroidered a book mark for me with my name on it. I recall the gentlemen musicians who made me sound good on my flute, and the great potlucks. Most of all I remember how diligently the majority of the churches and their members applied what I taught and advised. It was such a privilege to work with the many churches and their leaders and members and witness the results of their efforts.

Since there were so many over the twelve years I was at PSI I can't possibly go back and find them all in my records, plus many pastors have probably changed their venues. Is there a central newsletter or some way I can thank these people and organizations for the privilege of having worked with them and gotten acquainted with them? I'd like them to know how much our interaction and relationship meant to me.

I hope you are doing well with your responsibilities. I wish you continued blessings,
